New Performance Analytics for Risk-based Contracts and Medicare Payments to extend EPSi Platform Capabilities

CHICAGO, Sept. 13, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EPSi, Allscripts (NASDAQ: MDRX) flagship budgeting, long-range planning, cost accounting and financial decision support platform, announced a partnership with MPA Healthcare Solutions to offer clients sophisticated risk-adjustment and clinical analytics that provide a deeper understanding of performance and inform decision-making.

"As part of our ongoing commitment to innovation and strengthening and broadening our offerings to clients, we're pleased to announce this partnership with MPA Healthcare Solutions," stated Ralph Keiser, CEO of EPSi. "MPA's expertise in clinical analytics and risk assessment complements EPSi's core offerings and extends the value of our platform with new advanced analytic capabilities. These analytics will provide health system decision makers costs and outcomes data calibrated to their own performance. This knowledge will provide finance teams access to actionable data that offers a true picture of performance and enhances strategic decision-making and informs risk-based contract negotiations and participation in Medicare alternative payment models."

"We're delighted to be partnering with EPSi to address several longstanding obstacles facing financial decision makers," said Gregory Pine, CEO of MPA Healthcare Solutions. "These new insights into data are invaluable to hospitals striving to improve their bottom line and compete in the new era of Alternative Payment Models."
